

Matt is a Principal / Partner at RRMM Architects, an architectural, interior design and planning firm with multiple offices throughout the Mid-Atlantic region, and their main office in Chesapeake, Virginia. Matt serves as the firm's Director of Municipal and Public Safety Design Studio and leads many of the firm's projects for their public and private clients, which consist of multiple project delivery types, including design-build, design-bid-build, CM at Risk, and other integrated project delivery methods.

In addition to serving as a board member and past president for the DBIA Hampton Roads Chapter, Matt also serves on the board of directors for the Central Business District Association (CBDA), which supports the fast-growing Town Center Area of Virginia Beach. He also served as past president and a board member for the Courthouse Rotary Club and is a member of the certified emergency response team (CERT) for the City of Virginia Beach as well.
