

Bill is a registered Professional Engineer in the Commonwealth of Virginia, a certified Project Management Professional and a Design Build Professional with over 40 years of exceptional design and construction experience.

Bill is the Vice President of Leebcor Services, LLC which is a full-service General Contractor and Design-Build firm primary focused on the federal construction space. Concurrently,

Bill is the CEO of Sorrentino Consulting, LLC, which provides services that focus on improving project delivery specifically to the Architect-Engineering industry.

Prior to launching Sorrentino Consulting, LLC, he served as a Vice President at STV Incorporated. He was the Territory Manager of the Norfolk Virginia office providing full engineering and architectural services to federal, municipal, and private clients.

Prior to working with STV, Bill served as the Chief of Engineering and Construction as well as the Deputy District Engineer for the U.S Army Corps of Engineers, Norfolk District. While there, Bill's leadership and recommendations shaped the way his organization implemented and practiced project management.

Bill is the editor and co-author of The Ultimate Public Works Project Management Manual, proven project management approaches designed specifically for the Public Works Project Manager.

Bill was appointed by the Governor of Virginia and is currently serving on the Board of Directors of the Southeastern Public Service Authority and is also the President Elect of Hampton Roads Design-Build Institute of America.